C:\Program Files\QuickQualifier\CPM Colo

Click to load and save pictures and logos.

To load and save a picture, the file has to be accessible. It is best to store it somewhere in the C drive. The picture can then be loaded into Quick Qualifier by clicking on the green buttons (above). This will open a file dialog box where the path and picture file name can be selected and saved.

After loading a picture or a logo, they will be displayed in the setup screen. Pictures of people have to be in portrait orientation. (1.33 times taller than wide). If the picture is in landscape orientation, use a photo software to crop it to the correct shape.

Logo shape can be adjusted with the + & - buttons. The size overall size cannot be increased. (Logo's are supposed to be subtle.)

Lender's interest rates - applies to all setups

Rates are stored here for use with the Auto-Rate feature which can be turned on and off in the menu for all purchase and refinance loans. When turned on, rates will automatically infuse into loan scenarios. The QQ Internet Rate Link* can also be added. This feature lets RE agent and builder clients download rates into their computer with a single mouse click. (*Loan Officer version only –call for more details!)

These are default interest rates. They can be changed at run time.

Origination fees, appraisal & credit report fees

Next enter your origination fees for Conventional, FHA & VA. On Conventional loans, if you enter a 1% origination fee here, it will default. If you use Change orig/disc fee in the conventional options, and increase to 1.5%, the closing costs will print 1% origination fee + .5% discount.

Loan origination fees, appraisal & credit report fees

Conv loan fee ($ or %) 1	Conv appraisal fee 300
FHA loan fee ($ or %) 1	FHA appraisal fee 350
VA loan fee ($ or %) 1	VA appraisal fee 350
Enter 1 for 1% or 1000 for $1000 (Max 1% origination for FHA/VA)	Credit report fee 18

Add your default appraisal fees and credit report fee.

All fees can be changed when you run an individual loan option.

✓ Lender fees for purchase loans

Next enter your company fees. If you have more than 10 fees, you can combine the small ones, but remember...these are in addition to origination, discount, appraisal, credit report, etc. Title insurance, escrow/closing fees and transfer/mortgage tax in the next screens. Use the check boxes to apply loan type and APR. If the fee is a percentage of the loan amount, use a number less than one. (.01 for 1%)

✓ Lender fees for refinance loans

The screen for fees for refi loans (not shown) looks the same. Use it for fees unique to refinance transactions. If they are the same, click on the green box that duplicates purchase and refi fees to save typing in the fees twice.

Click to duplicate purchase fees in refinance screen

✓ Loan ceilings (FNMA, FHA & VA)

Loan limits for FHA, VA and FNMA/FHLMC

FHA single family loan limit	261609
FHA duplex loan limit	334863
FHA triplex loan limit	404724
FHA fourplex loan limit	502990
VA "No down" maximum	240000
FNMA/VA loan limit	300700

FHA loan ceilings have to be set for your area. VA loan maximums are uniform in the continental US.

VA now has a No Down loan ceiling based on Veteran's entitlement and FNMA also has a loan ceiling on "Jumbo VA's" which they now buy with a down payment.

THE FNMA loan limit does not restrict loan ceilings as in FHA/VA but defines a Jumbo rate.

✓ Title insurance and closing fees

Buyer or Seller pay fees based on local tradition (Not HUD Regs!). Who pays what in your area?

We customize title and closing fee schedules for your state when we ship your disc. If you want to edit schedules, you can input fees that are more specific to your local title company. Click here...

Factors for PMI, prop taxes, fire ins, etc.

In this screen, enter factors as seen below. PMI renewal premiums are fairly standard. Transfer tax and mortgage tax are generic terms for any tax on either the sales price or loan amount, paid by the borrower. In the example below, 1.75% of the loan amount (in New York) would be $1750 on a loan of $100,000.

If you have multiple property tax rates for various areas, input the % that best fits the average or the maximum, as you wish. You can pre-program up to 16 different areas and rates by clicking on the button at the bottom. These rates can be selected in the purchase, refi or finance option screens.

All numbers can be changed when you are running an individual scenario.

(FHA MIP/MMI is pre-coded)

Saving Setup information

When you are done, each of your changes will be saved as the A Paper. This is a sample name for the primary setup. It can be renamed by clicking on Change setup name. You can rename all for setup schemes.

Normally, this is the only setup that you use. However, if you want to create a second, third or fourth setup, you can start one by clicking on one of the four option buttons. An example would be if you have an investor that has a different set of closing costs. Or, secondary setups can be used for different area loan limits. Change the name of each setup and then select it from the main screen, which will load your defaults when you start a new loan.

The bottom of the setup screen lets you turn features on and off. Borders, language, colors and fonts can also be change in the menu on each of the screens.

Backing up your Setup information

You can easily back up your setup data. This is a time saver when you install to additional computers.

Click on Import/export. You can send your setup data to an external drive. The best device is called a travel drive or jump drive. These portable drives plug into the USB port on the front of a computer. They hold a huge amount of data and are also useful for transporting pictures and logos to and from your Real Estate agent's computers.

Client and flyer data can also be backed up to a device or folder and transported for import the same way. This is handy if you want to merge records from one computer to another. It is also a way to backup your data. For more detailed information, click on the Help Video or watch them all in the demo section at www.mortgagesoftware.com
